

CITY WRECKED BY THE STORM

Meridian, Mississippi, Is In Ruins As Result Of Last Night's Cyclone.

RECOVER FOURTEEN DEAD BODIES

Property Loss Is Estimated At Five Million--Residence
Portion Not Damaged--Wind Lasted
Five Minutes.

[By Associated Press.]
Meridian, Miss., March 3.—Thirteen bodies, the majority of whom are negroes, have been recovered from the wreckage of the buildings caused by last night's storm. The property loss is estimated at a million dollars. Among the buildings destroyed are the Meridian Cotton Oil company, the city electric power station, the Queen and Crescent railroad freight depot, the Meyer-Neville Hardware company, the Grand Avenue hotel, the Ogden hotel, the Railroad Y. M. C. A., and a large number of small buildings are either demolished or damaged. Many people were injured. The storm did not continue over five minutes.

A Short Storm
The storm broke shortly after six o'clock last evening, ploughing a path way from the southern to the eastern suburbs of the city, and during its short existence created a reign of terror among the inhabitants in all sections. Rain fell for half an hour after the tornado had passed, aiding in suppressing the numerous fires that broke out among the wrecked buildings. The damage to the residence portion of the city is very small. The greatest havoc was wrought in the business section and in the negro settlements.

New Orleans, La., March 3.—A Meridian dispatch estimates the loss of life at a hundred and about two hundred injured. There is yet so much confusion prevailing that a detailed list of the casualties is unavailable.

Tornado Sweeps Meridian

Mobile, Ala., March 3.—According to information reaching Mobile by telephone, all telegraph wires being down, a destructive tornado visited Meridian, Miss., at 6:30 Friday evening, killing twenty-one white persons and over 100 colored people and damaging property to the extent of $1,500,000.

There were also scores seriously injured by being caught in wreckage of houses. The tornado caught the city on the southwest and traveled to the northeast, extending itself in two suburbs, where many negroes were killed and injured, a whole tenement district being wiped out.

Two large wholesale stores, one smaller one, the principal hotel, the electric lighting plant, and all the smaller property between the Mobile & Ohio railroad depot and the business part of the city are badly damaged. Twenty-one men were caught in a restaurant and several were killed. Two stories of the Y. M. C. A. building were wrecked and other buildings suffered in the upper stories.

NOTED ADVENTRESS OF OLD WORLD IN PRISON

"Princess Soltykoff," In Whose Manipulations
Cecil Rhodes Was Involved,
Is Punished.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, March 3.—Seldom has a more extraordinary life story been unfolded even in the historic Old Bailey than that brought forth in the trial of the "Princess Soltykoff," which has just terminated in a verdict of guilty and the sentencing of the fair young prisoner to eighteen months at hard labor. Though she has not yet reached her thirtieth birthday the young woman, whose real name is Margaret True Prebble, has led a career of fraud and adventure that has brought her into the limelight in London, at Monte Carlo, in South Africa and other parts of the world.

The crime which finally led to her undoing was the perpetration of a series of bold frauds on fashionable West End tradesmen. As "Lady Muriel Paget," cousin of the Marquis of Anglesey," she obtained painted miniatures, photographs, cloaks, dresses and expensive gowns. At the trial just concluded the real Lady Muriel Paget sat in the court and gave evidence, whilst others who were present and were plainly interested in the case were the Duchess of Somerset and Mrs. Herbert Gladstone.

The prisoner retained her self-possession throughout the proceedings. She is remarkably attractive, obviously cultured, and apparently well-bred. She wore a long, scarlet, silken wrap, reaching to her feet, and the only other visible part of a fetching, if unusual, toilette was a pair of white silk gloves. The evidence showed that though the young woman had posed as the owner of motor-cars and large country houses, one who employed a governess, a secretary and a lady's maid, she was really the daughter of a carpenter named McKillen, and the wife of an army corporal named Prebble.

March Idlings—Our weather forecaster again turns cartoonist and shows why March is not a month of song and poetry.

The prisoner testified that she had stayed at various places with the Marquis of Anglesey, such as Monte Carlo, down the Mediterranean and at Paris, and that she assumed the name of Paget because it was the family name of the Marquis. She stated also that she was entitled to the title of Princess Soltykoff, as she had been married to Alexis Soltykoff, the only son of Prince Soltykoff. Prince Soltykoff was called and he stated that he knew nothing about the young woman, and that the whole story of her in a career of fraud almost without Soltykoff was a fabrication.

The testimony of the police was to the effect that the young woman was an unusually clever swindler and that her connections at various times with men of title and wealth had aided her in a career of raud almost without parallel. Her adventures in South Africa, in which the name of the late Cecil Rhodes was innocently involved, were too well known to require repetition. Returning to London she had pursued her methods of swindle with even more boldness and effrontery. In addition to tradesmen almost without number her victims had included the Savoy and many other fashionable hotels.

TRIBES WIPED OUT BY CONGRESS' ACT

Indian Governments Cease to Exist at Midnight, and Red-Skins
Become Citizens.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Muskegon, I. T., March 3.—At midnight tonight, in accordance with the act of Congress, the tribal governments in Indian territory cease to exist. The break-up of the governments means the distribution and allotment of large funds and great tracts of land heretofore held by the tribes in common. By the distribution the Indian becomes a full-fledged citizen of the United States. For the first time he will be entitled to vote and will enjoy also the privilege of paying taxes. He will be eligible to hold public office and consequently when the territories are admitted to statehood it is more than likely that the congressional delegation from Indian Territory and Oklahoma will include one or more full-blooded Indians. General Pleasant Porter, chief of the Creek nation, is prominently mentioned for the Senate.

Storm.

[By Associated Press.]
San Francisco, Calif., March 3.—The steamship Mariposa arrived today from Tahiti and brings the news that on Feb. 7th and 8th a destructive tornado swept the Society islands, causing damage to the amount of a million dollars at Tahiti and presumably a similar amount at the Tuamotu islands. Papota is inundated and seventy-five houses were destroyed, including the American consulate and the French government buildings. It is feared there has been a great loss of life on other islands. The shipping suffered greatly.

QUEEN MARGHERITA AMERICAN VISITOR

Widow of Italy's Assassinated King to Come Soon—A Beautiful Woman of the World.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Rome, March 3.—Now that it is authoritatively announced that Queen Margherita is to pay a visit to the United States next month Americans will naturally be interested to learn what sort of a woman is their royal visitor. In the first place it may be stated that the Dowager queen is said to be not only the most beautiful queen in all the world, but the most cultured, gracious and loveliest as well. Marguerite Teresa Marie Giovanna was born in 1851 and is consequently in her fifty-fifth year. Her father was Ferdinand, Duke of Genoa, who died when she was 4 years old. Queen Margherita is not domestic. She loves fashions, letters and art. She is exceedingly fond of sovereignty and she has never become reconciled to the fact that another is entitled to reign in her stead at the Quirinal. Since the assassination of her husband, King Humbert, she has kept away from Rome the greater part of the time. She knows French, German, English, Italian, of course, and Latin thoroughly. She knows Greek well and is familiar with the literature of all ages. The queen rises early and retires late. She manages with six hours sleep and thrives on it. She is fond of out of door life generally. She was one of the first of royalties to take up with the automobile and she is a fearless driver. In her country place at Monza she is a country woman in the Alps she is a hardy climber as the Frolozza, going over glaciers, along narrow paths or to the edge of a precipice with charming indifference. She is a great lover of flowers, fine old lace and rare pearls.

RADICAL CHANGES IN SHOE FASHIONS

Cloth Uppers Will Be In Vogue This Season—A More Pointed Toe for Women.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, March 3.—According to views expressed by leading shoe manufacturers who have just concluded their national convention here the coming spring and summer will see some radical changes in the style of footwear for both men and women. Cloth uppers will be extensively worn, owing to the high price of leather. The correct shape in spats has been dictated by the party favoring solid colors, after some discussion. A strong effort will be made to introduce the white shoe, which heretofore has been worn only at the seaside or at yachting parties. It is announced that instead of the mannish shoe for women, with its broad box toe, feminine footwear will be more pointed than ever this season.

EXAMINATION SHOWS ONLY BAD JUDGMENT

State Life Insurance Company Had Done Nothing Criminal;
Only Was Careless.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., March 3.—A month may be taken by the Wisconsin legislative committee investigating life insurance companies of this state before the big task of the committee is tackled—the examination of the Northwestern Mutual Life of Milwaukee. The committee yesterday completed the probe into the affairs and management of the Wisconsin Life of Madison and adjourned subject to the call of Chairman Frear. There is much work to be done in sifting and tabulating the testimony and figures concerning the small Madison company, and the individual members of the committee have personal business that will delay for some time the commencement of the hearing of the big Milwaukee organization. The examination of the Wisconsin Life developed that the company is small, conservatively managed and of necessity economical in its management. Its president, general counsel and directors serve without pay, except for the premiums on their small life insurance policies, and the only extravagances uncovered were in the line of large commissions to general agents and in competition with the large companies of the country. Chairman Frear said after the hearing was concluded that there had been no dishonesty discovered, but some of the methods relative to proxies, commissions, agencies and actuarial computation were not deemed prudent by the committee. During the interim between now and the commencement of the hearing in Milwaukee, Chairman Frear will push his campaign for the republican nomination for secretary of state.

CONFESSION IS MOST EXPLICIT

Inner Circle Man Relates All The Horrid Details
Of The Murderous Plans.

A FULL AND SWEEPING CONFESSION

Steve Adams Makes Written Statement Of The Alleged Conspiracy By Western Miners To Wholesale Murders.

Boise, Idaho, March 3.—Steve Adams, who was arrested at Haines, Ore., on Feb. 20 in connection with the Steunenberg assassination, late Friday made a full and sweeping confession.

The Statesman says:

"This second confession is far more important than that made by Harry Orchard. This statement was made by James McParland, the detective, in the presence of Governor Gooding and J. N. Hawley, who is in charge of the prosecution.

"Mr. McParland added that Adams' confession fully and exactly corroborated that made by Orchard at every point touched on by both.

Gives Inside Information.

"Moreover, McParland continued, Adams knows far more of the workings of the 'inner circle' than Orchard did and was able to give a mass of detailed information that Orchard's confession did not cover. The confession of Adams, he said, corroborated that given by Orchard in every substantial point connected with the assassination of Governor Steunenberg. Adams, however, was not at Caldwell at the time of the assassination, nor was Orchard at the time of the 'unsuspected' attempt in November. The man who assisted Orchard on that latter occasion, as set forth in Orchard's confession, was Jack Simpkins.

"Still another statement made by the detective was that the Adams confession gave the details of a large number of murders that were not referred to in any manner by Orchard.

Confession in Writing.

"It was further stated that the confession had been reduced to writing, signed and acknowledged. It was a voluminous document, covering a greater field and in more detail than was made by Orchard. The further statement was made that Adams had made this confession without being promised anything. When talked with about the matter he simply made a clean breast of all he knew of this case and of the secret workings of the Western Federation.

"It was announced by the governor, Mr. Hawley and Mr. McParland that while they thought these facts should be given to the public, there would be no further information given out or hinted at respecting this confession."

WILL DETERMINE ON CANAL WITHOUT MORE TESTIMONY

La Follette Is Defeated In His Play-For-Isolation Regarding The Indian Lands.

[By Associated Press.]
Washington, March 3.—No more witnesses will be examined by the senate committee on oceanic canals until after the type of canal has been determined upon and other information obtained which is necessary to the preparation of a bill for the government of the zone and construction of the isthmian waterway. This decision was reached today.

Hard Fight for La Follette.
Senator La Follette was defeated Friday afternoon in his fight with the railroad interests in the senate. He failed in an effort to secure a vote on his amendment to the Indian bill prohibiting railroads in Indian Territory from owning coal mines. There was no humiliation in the defeat. In fact it was really a victory for the Wisconsin senator. It has been years since the senate has been treated to the novelty of having among its members one with the boldness to assail corporate interests.

It was a most stubborn battle. Mr. La Follette for five hours, single-handed, repulsed the sorties made upon him from every corner of the senate. No senator had the courage to enter the lists with him upon a test of the question whether railroads should own coal mines.

The dreaded hour was postponed and a vote delayed by arguments upon technical and constitutional questions. All manner of devices known to those skilled in parliamentary practice were resorted to. Amendments were proposed and suggestions made, not in good faith, but for the sole purpose of causing confusion.

Trick Carries Defeat.
But Mr. La Follette was not to be embarrassed by such proceedings. Frequently confessing his unfamiliarity with the rules, he did not yield an inch, and refused to accept any changes until Mr. Bacon, of Georgia, offered one which strengthened the amendment. Driven at last into a corner, where mere words were no longer of avail, the senators who for two days have been dodging and squirming to prevent a vote upon the issue raised by Mr. La Follette, took advantage of the only avenue of retreat offered them and, on a motion made by Mr. McCumber of North Dakota, proposed to strike from the bill the section which Mr. La Follette sought to amend. This section provides for the sale of the lands of the five civilized tribes.

By a ruling of the chair the motion to strike out this section carried with it all the amendments which had been offered. Upon the motion the vote was 38 to 7. The six senators voting with Mr. La Follette against it were Bacon and Clay of Georgia, Blackburn of Kentucky, Dubois of Idaho, Malloy of Florida and Pettus of Alabama. Those who voted in favor of the motion when charged with dodging the amendment will have the excuse that they were opposed to the sale of the Indian lands. It was a clever parliamentary trick.

He has organized more churches than any other living man and will be performing his favorite service tomorrow. He is a leader in the Young People's and Sunday School work, National Organizer of the Brotherhood of St. Paul and a member of the General Conference Commission on Aggressive Evangelism. The Rev. Milton S. Terry, D. D., LL. D., who will deliver the morning sermon, is professor of Christian Doctrine in the Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston, Ill. The clergyman who is to give the evening sermon attracts especial attention here. He is the Rev. Samuel Plantz, D. D., LL. D., President of Lawrence University at Appleton and a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Plantz, who reside at 203 South Bluff street.

Pastor of the Church.
 The Rev. James H. Tippet, D. D., pastor of the Central Methodist church, will be pastor of the new church. Mr. Tippet came to Janesville several years ago, entering upon the duties as pastor of the Court street Methodist church. During his term the Court street church and the First Methodist church, whose house of worship was at the corner of South Jackson and Center streets and is now occupied by the English Lutheran society, were reunited after a long separation. Mr. Tippet was placed at the head of the reorganized society and since has been working faithfully and earnestly with members of the church for a new house of worship. Their efforts have been successful, the new structure is their reward.

Historical and Descriptive.
 The Cargill Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church is the fourth M. E. edifice to be erected in the city of Janesville. The first was built in 1848. The second was on the corner of Jackson and Center streets, and was dedicated in July, 1853, by Rev. John Clark of Rock River Conference. The third was erected on the corner of Court and Main streets and was dedicated in August, 1870, by Rev. R. W. Hatfield, D. D., of Chicago, Ill. The present beautiful new temple was made possible by the generosity of Mr. W. W. Cargill, in memory of his father and mother. Architecturally it is one of the most beautiful in the state. The style is Gothic of the old English pattern; it is dignified and ecclesiastical, and in its utilities is splendidly adapted to modern methods of work.

The walls are vitrified faced brown brick, with trimmings of Bedford sandstone. The roof is covered with the best grade of black slate. The building has a frontage on Franklin street of 114 feet and 81 feet on Pleasant street. There are three graceful and beautiful towers, one on the corner being the largest, one on Franklin and the other on Pleasant streets, each finished in the old style battlements. The splendid towers are so spacious as to form adequate vestibules, with closets on either side for umbrellas, usters' coats and hats.

The auditorium is a delight to all, with a bowled floor in sections, the aisles are wide and the seats a perfect luxury of comfort. The organ space is by the side of the pulpit and affords room for a large chorus choir. The pulpit furniture is rich and handsome conforming in design to the architecture of the building. The decorations are attractive in their harmony of many rich colors, making a soft and effective whole. All this splendor is augmented by the elegant Cathedral windows of Gothic design and masterful treatment. The one on the east is the "Annunciation." The gift of Mrs. G. R. Barker, S. S. and J. F. Cargill, in memory of their father and mother. This window is one of the richest in care and uniformity of execution, in fullness and grandness, in breadth and delicacy of the drapery, in lightness and freedom of motion, in powerful effect of colors, it is seldom surpassed. The south window, the gift of the Epworth League, is "The Women of the Tomb." There is the tomb, the angel sitting at the foot, pointing to the empty space in one panel while, in the other, the chant and dispenser of "Irish Middy" and sundry pills, who was convicted by a jury in Justice Booth's court in Beloit on February 6 of practicing medicine without a license and who appealed from that court to municipal court and was to be tried again on Tuesday next, has decided not to become further involved in the processes of law and yesterday paid his fine of $50 and costs amounting to $42. He was charged with prescribing for a Beloit man and allowing him to get in a dangerous condition with high fever and pulse beat before a regular physician was called in.

As a taxpayer of the city I am deeply interested in the welfare of the city.
 Four years ago this spring I was honored with the republican nomination for city attorney.
 My friends request that I become a candidate for this important office this year and in view of the offer of support from them and the fact that my nomination papers have been circulated and filed with the city clerk with the requisite number of names, I have made the necessary declaration and now place my candidacy in the hands of the people.
 My announcement to you is simple. If nominated and elected, I shall discharge the duties of the office to the best interests of the people.
 I am bound by no promises, have no strings on my future actions.
 I realize the heavy burden falling on each and every taxpayer occasioned by the heavy increase in city taxes. I shall be my continuous effort to discharge the duties of the office on strictly economic lines.

STANLEY B. TALLMAN

If honored by nomination and election at the hands of the people I shall personally investigate very carefully every claim for damages made against the city and exhaust every effort to protect the city's interests.

Long drawn out and expensive litigation will be curtailed wherever possible.

Where it is inevitable in damage cases that the city is at fault I will endeavor to make immediate and equitable settlement.
 I do not propose to importune each and every person I meet on the street and bear down upon them to support me. I have neither the time or inclination for that method of politics. I do, however, desire the support of each voter and take this method of making a personal request to each and every voter for his support.

Yours very respectfully,
 STANLEY D. TALLMAN.

SEVENTY OF THE LUTHERANS VISITED BELOIT ON THURSDAY

And Were Guests of Young People's Circle of the Trinity Church.

Thursday evening seventy young people belonging to the synod Lutheran church of Janesville made a trip to Beloit in a special car and spent the evening with the Young People's Circle of the Trinity Lutheran church. THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is In Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purposes.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics, in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant-tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from the continued use of them; but on the contrary, great benefit.

Lax-ets—only 5c.

A Perfect Bowel Laxative for constipation, bad breath, bad taste, muddy or sallow complexion, face eruptions, headaches, sour stomach, coated tongue, biliousness. LAX-ETS act promptly, without pain or griping. Pleasant to take, pleasant in effect. Formula on every box. Recommended and prescribed by physicians everywhere. In handsome metal packet size boxes only five cents a box. Sold by PEOPLE'S DRUG CO. AND KING'S PHARMACY.

March 3, 1861—Forty-five years ago today the serfs of Russia were emancipated.
Find the Czar.

—FORTY YEARS AGO—

Janesville Daily Gazette, Saturday, March 3, 1861.—Pursuant to previous notice the National Republicans friendly to President Johnson convened at the Court Room, Friday evening, March 2d. The meeting was called to order by Dr. R. B. Treat on whose motion J. J. Pease, Esq., was called to the chair, and Dr. J. B. Whiting was chosen secretary.

Alex. Graham remarked that they had been called together to consult and deliberate on the question that now divides and agitates the country and that they might make some formal expression of their views. Moved, committee on resolutions. Carried, and the chair appointed Messrs. Graham, R. B. Treat and Mayor Mitchell.

During the absence of the committee, the meeting was ably and eloquently addressed by William L. Mitchell, Esq. At the close of Mr. Mitchell's speech the committee submitted their report.

(The resolutions are composed of more than the usual number of "whereas" and "resolveds" and for other than expressing the sentiment, given in the call for the meeting, resolve into the following: Resolved, That we have entire confidence in the integrity, firmness and patriotism of Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, and believing that the President considered the amendment to the Freedmen's Bureau bill as unnecessary and unconstitutional, we regard the veto as the exercise of a duty expressly imposed upon him by the constitution which he has sworn to support and defend.)

Resolutions were accepted and adopted, after which speeches and remarks were made by Messrs. Tallman, Graham, Treat, Guernsey and others. Moved and carried that the resolutions and proceedings be published in the Janesville Gazette and the Madison and Milwaukee papers. Adjourned. J. J. PEASE, Chair. J. B. Whiting, Secy.

The Play of Hamlet with the Part of Hamlet Omitted.—We alluded, the other day, to the impropriety of inserting the name of Abraham Lincoln in a call of the Johnson-supporting meeting which met last night, and suggested that it was not in good taste. If the reader will look for so much as the name of Abraham Lincoln in the official proceedings, he will not find it. We are glad that they have respect enough for the memory of the late President to leave him alone.

"Everything is impossible until we see a success." Your own business is probably bigger now than you thought "possible" before you became a shrewd (which means a "large") advertiser.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

"The temptations for a young man in a city to do wrong are so great that it is a wonder that more boys from country homes do not go to the dogs." This was the remark of a business man recently. He had had two sons as different as night is to day. One had remained at home, the other had gone to the city. The city son soon had tired of the town he lived in and wished for new sights and new surroundings. His first letters were happy and cheerful. He was in a nice boarding house, had found a position and everything prospered. Meanwhile his brother continued at home. He was honest and faithful in all he did. He read and spent his evenings at home or went out to meet nice people. He did not seem ambitious and his father often regretted he had not more ambition to rise and seemed content to drudge along in the store he had found a position. Glowing letters came from the son in the city. He told of meeting this person and that, of going here and there, his plans, his prospects all interested the father and mother who dreamed great dreams for their city son. Then came fewer letters. Those that did come were but hasty scrawls and excuses of night work and too tired to write were taken as facts by his dotting parents. Fearing that he would break down from overwork his dotting mother wrote him to be careful. Enclosed little sums of money, to buy this or to purchase that comfort she feared he was doing without. Then came a letter asking this fond mistaken mother for a small sum of money as a loan. Her husband liberally allowed her funds and she quickly responded. These appeals for maternal aid became frequent. The strenuous life of the city required many extras. There were teeth to be filled, doctors' bills, an oculist to be paid, a pay-day missed and so on. Promptly the mother responded. At last her funds were exhausted and she begged her boy, her darling, to come home for a rest. Finally he came. Dressed in a flashy suit of clothes, smoking a pipe, made his appearance in the family circle. His plodding brother was forgotten. True he had just had a raise in salary, had been promoted to a position of trust, but his brother held the center of attraction. A week went by, two weeks passed and the city son left for his work again. He had wheedled his mother out of more money, had borrowed from his brother, had induced his father to spare him some of his pocket funds. A year went by. The city son's letters had become a rarity. His mother excused his negligence on the plea of hard work. His father sighed and remembered the dollars he had sent on one excuse or another, always plausible. Meanwhile the brother went ahead. His firm advanced him again. He was now in charge of a small branch of the business. Small, it is true, but he was in charge and trusted. The time came when some goods were to be bought and the plodder was sent to the city to buy them. He decided to spend two days there, to visit his brother. The fond mother packed his valise with comforts for her missing boy. The city was reached. The plodder went to the office his brother had worked at and of which he had written so much extra work. He was not there. He had left their employ some time previous. A search at the boarding place revealed a like situation. He had gone for weeks leaving a bill for board behind. Then the plodder went about his business. The next morning by chance he met his brother on the street. He was shabby and unshaven. He looked hollow-eyed and tired. He smelled of smoke and liquor but he was his brother. Over a warm breakfast the city son unboomed himself. He told of losing his position, of his failure to find work, of his pride, his love for finery and society, his drinking and gaming, his utter downfall. The plodder knew what to do instantly. He took his brother to his arms. He forgave him but insisted he come home with him. They went back together that night and when they reached the old home the plodder stepped back while his prodigal brother was clasped in his mother's arms, and while he poured out his story of disgrace and suffering into her ear, she, mother-like, forgave him.

"But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet. And bring thither the fatted calf, and kill it, and let us eat and be merry: 'For this is my son that was dead, he was lost and is found. And they began to be merry.'"

How true is this. How many boys right from Janesville go to the city and fall into temptation. It is so easy to fall, so hard to rise again. There are many mothers tonight who will kneel down and pray for their missing boy. Pray long and earnestly and forget the one whose presence at home is secure and safe.

All boys who go to the city do not go the ways of destruction. Many hold fast to the right and remain true and faithful. Rise to positions of trust and importance and return home honored and respected. The city is full of snares for the unwary but not more so in proportion than the home town. "Bad company corrupts good manners," is an old formula for copybooks. Even in a small town bad boys can be found. Boys who are sly and tricky. Boys who deceive their parents and their employers. They never rise beyond the party positions they hold. They are loud and flashy but there is no foundation to them. They are like the house built upon the sands and are washed away in the everyday struggle for existence.

Much of the boys' future depends upon the parents themselves. If they are cold and distant, do not enjoy their boys' pleasures, their boys' happiness, do not sympathize with his sorrows he will seek some one else who does. He will meet companions who are free and easy and when the parents finally discover the awful truth they will have only themselves to blame. Cold and distant parents or overindulgent parents are alike. They both bring ruin and desolation to their household. The growing boy or girl wants interest felt in their life. In their happiness. All is not study and church in their existence. They need love and interest in their pleasures. The family where the father and mother grow young again with their children is the ideal home. The home ties, the home surroundings have everything to do with the future. Make the home a place to come to, to bring their friends, to enjoy themselves in and your boys and girls will cling to you, confide in you and be a comfort to you all your life.

BY RAYMOND.

Whenever any great legislative enterprise reaches an acute stage it always is Senator Spooner of Wisconsin who comes to the front just in the nick of time with an amendment designed to adjust the views of all parties in such a way as to permit final action. In Chicago Tribune.

So they all have to come to Spooner at last when they want a bill whipped into shape for passage?

Whatever the Northwestern railroad intends to do with that tract of land and the fact that they have purchased it is a good thing for the city.

MONDAY LAST DAY FOR NOMINATIONS

S. D. Tallman, J. J. Comstock, and C. K. Millmore Filed Their Papers Today.

Monday is the last day of grace for the filing of nomination papers and thus far not a single aspirant for a place on the democratic city ticket has taken the necessary steps to get into the race. It is expected, however, that there will be at least one candidate for city attorney and that his papers will be placed in the hands of the city clerk before the time for so doing has expired. No democratic candidates in the 1st and 2d wards have qualified and the republicans, as yet, have no candidates in the fifth ward or in the fourth, with the exception of the aspirant for aldermanic honors.

The primary election is to be held on Tuesday, March 20, and the law provides that all papers must be filed not later than 15 days beforehand. Those who filed papers today were: Stanley D. Tallman, who seeks the republican nomination for city attorney; John J. Comstock, who seeks the republican nomination for clerk of the court from the second ward; and C. K. Millmore, who seeks the democratic nomination of alderman from the fourth ward.

FEBRUARY WAS NOT A VERY BAD MONTH

Weather Conditions Were Favorable and Days Mild—Three Days Below Zero.

If old traditions are to be observed this year March, which came in like a lamb, will go out like a lion. It would seem that the ground hog was not a true weather prophet, as his six weeks more of cold failed to materialize during the month of February. However, his days are not yet over and several storms may happen before his six weeks' sleep is ended. According to the weather report compiled by E. B. Heimstreet, there were but three zero, or below, days the past month. The report from Madison, forty miles north, gives that city eight zero days. The lowest temperature Mr. Heimstreet reports is four below on the 15th, while at Madison the same day it was eight below. There were eighteen good days in the month, eight cloudy days and four stormy days on two of which it rained. In Madison they had ten cloudy days, eight partly cloudy and ten clear days. The following is the table of temperatures as reported:

Date	Max.	Min.	Condition
1	23	20	Fair.

REAL MINSTRELSY BY HI HENRY'S MEN

Entertainment Last Night Was Far Ahead of the Offering of All Former Years.

Before a fair sized audience at the Myers theatre last evening Hi Henry's performers gave the most finished minstrel performance that has been seen in Janesville in two seasons. Since the visit here a year ago what is practically an entire new company has been recruited, and with the exception of Hi Henry's comic solos every feature has been replaced by something more crisp, original and up-to-date.

Real vocalists are seated in the circle, real musicians play the orchestral and band instruments, real funny men deliver the monologues, sing the topical songs and execute eccentric dances which are really eccentric. Charley Gano and Johnny Dove, end-men, prove themselves worthy of the loud fanfare which greets their delayed entrance. They do not go to sleep in their chairs after a few laborious and spectacular efforts to demonstrate that they are bona-fide entertainers. Both are gifted with clear, sweet voices and when they sing their parodies one hears melody, not rasping groans and screams. There is real humor and originality in the "No-body" ballad as sung by Dove, and the world's congress of women, song, the title of which does not appear on the program, is a rich contribution which puts the audience in a humor to rejoice thereafter at anything Gano sings, says, or does.

The scenic setting throughout is remarkably beautiful. The so-called "Palace of Aladdin" with its myriad of lights and all its gilded glory surrounds the entertainers in the first part. The vocalists are costumed in gorgeous velvets and silks embroidered with gold lace and spangles and only the eight end-men, in their long coats and red silk ties, appear in burnt cork. Excellent solo work is done by John C. Dickens, W. C. Emerson, G. M. Decker, and others, and the rendition of Dudley Buck's "Good Night" by the entire circle delights all hearers and closes the first part of the entertainment.

In the Ohio Gano, Bowen, and Dove do a very good sketch entitled "Getting the Money," and the two last named prove themselves dancers of unusual merit in a subsequent act. Hi Henry gives his comic solos, accompanied by his full band, and H. E. and A. W. VanderKoor engage in an excellent pantomimic comedy, "The Magician and the Yip." The last act presents moving clouds and a flood of light playing on the waters of a river as a background for the plantation pastimes which include more excellent singing and dancing.

"Say, Dr. Richards, I told my folks this morning that I never spent $10 in a way that gave me as much satisfaction as the $10 I paid you for those two gold crowns you put on for me some time ago."

"I never had an idea you could save those two wrecks of teeth, but now they are my best standbys."

EVANSVILLE TO BE LUCKY CITY

THAT IS THE LATEST REGARDING NORTHWESTERN CHANGES.

TO MOVE DIVISION HEADS?

Land Purchased Here Last Week Will Be Used Simply for Yards,
Says Report.

Since last Saturday evening speculation as to what purpose the Chicago & North-Western Railway company will put the land it has purchased southeast of the city has been rife. Business men and all interested in the welfare of Janesville have been delighted at the prospects of something that will benefit the community.

Nothing Definite Yet.

No one outside of the head offices of the company in Chicago can say what the land will be utilized for, but rumors "coming from people whose knowledge was gained on authority," have been numerous. The sheep feeding station idea has gained on more cognizance than it had last week but one report that was accepted by many is to the effect that the North Chicago shops will be moved here and yards will be built in which much of the business now done at Harvard and elsewhere will be transacted. Such a thing is possible, but whether it is probable or not is an open question. Should such be the case an immense roundhouse, probably of from forty to fifty stalls forming a complete circle with a turn-table in the center, would be erected. By such a move a "South Janesville," similar to North Fond du Lac, would be created.

Simply a New Yard

The supposition, which has gained precedence among the railroad men is that the land is simply for a new yard. The present yards have been altogether too small for some time and just at present are all but blocked continually. This congestion is experienced every winter, and to handle the business, which has shown an increase here this season, more switching and yard room must be found. The present yards cannot be enlarged and so it seems very likely that yards, similar to the "new yards" of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company in the city, will be made. Though the stalls of the present roundhouse are not large enough to accommodate the largest engines in use on the road it is in every other way commodious. The shops are also large enough and well equipped.

Evansville—Not Janesville. Ancient this belief that no roundhouse or shops are to be built on the new land comes a report from Chicago to the effect that when the North Chicago shops are moved, as they will be in time, and when an immense switching yard is to be created, it will be Evansville and not Janesville that will be the "lucky city." Much of the freight business of the Madison division is not handled through Janesville now and should such a change come the cut-off would be added onto the Wisconsin division, changing the heads of these divisions from Janesville to Evansville. The North Wisconsin division would be connected to Evansville by a cut-off crossing the river by a bridge near Milton Junction.

Barn and Horses Burned: At midnight Thursday the barn and contents, including four work horses, on the Michael McKearn farm eight miles south of here on the River road were destroyed by fire. Seventeen tons of hay, a binder, harness, and several vehicles were burned. Cattle in the basement sheds broke through the doors and escaped. Neighbors hastened to the scene, but were unable to do anything to save the property. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

NEW METHODIST CHURCH TO OPEN

"Three Marys" with coloring rich and expressive, effective in form and expression. The charm of its coloring culminates in the contrast between the high lights of the heads and the somber gradations of the background. One listens to hear the word, "He is not here, for He is risen." In the distance can be seen the three crosses. The vest window is beautifully executed. The subject is the "Ascension" and is the gift of Mr. Henry Tall in memory of his mother. This gives a general continuity of thought, expressing the Alpha and Omega. Over the center is a large dome of art glass, which forms a rich decorative feature and admits a flood of soft light by day, and is surrounded by electric lights for the evening.

The Sunday School is on the same floor level with the auditorium, and separated by a partition which contains a large window corresponding to the other windows in the main room. The central room is semi-circular with two tiers of class rooms. There is ample accommodation for 20 individual classes, with delightful parlors on the ground floor and in the gallery.

Expressions of approval are given by all who enter the basement and see the adaptation for social work. The entrance to this is from Franklin street. On the left as you enter are the gentlemen's toilet and coat rooms. From these you enter a large and spacious reception room, fitted up and furnished with rugs and everything for comfort. Opening from the reception room is a large dining hall which will seat 500 at the tables. The kitchen is a source of comfort with its large tables and sinks at each end, near by are the ladies' cloak and toilet rooms.

The heating apparatus is of the "blast" system and will not only warm the church in winter, with its many thermostats, but will cool it in summer. Combination fixtures of electricity and gas are used for lighting. It is a splendid structure, wonderfully adapted for the purpose of church work, and will be a joy and inspiration to all who share in its worship.

Other Churches Participate.
On every evening but Saturday of next week meetings are to be held at half past seven o'clock. Several ministers from out of the city are to speak and on Friday evening address is to be given by the pastor of the other denominational churches, by Rev. J. J. JUDGE FOR YOURSELF

Which is Better—Try an Experiment Or Profit by Janesville Citizens' Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented. The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit. But the endorsement of friends is now supposing you had a bad back, A Lambe, Weak or Aching one, Would you experiment on it?

You will read of many so-called cures. Endorsed by strangers from far-away places. It's different when the endorsement comes from home.

Easy to prove local testimony. Home endorsement is the proof that backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Read this case:—

Chas. W. Allen, of 126 Chatham St., Janesville, Wis., says: "After my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I am ready to recommend them as a remedy that can be relied upon in kidney troubles and backache. I tried many different remedies for these complaints, but until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the Peoples' drug company I found little or no help. After a few days' treatment with Doan's Kidney Pills the aching and other symptoms left me and have never returned."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Midburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MANY BUILDINGS BY GOVERNMENT

(Special Agency Photograph)

To one who has never seen a large hospital ward this may be interesting.

In Tents.
For the past six months the overflow of patients have been cared for in tents erected for that purpose. There they had to sleep on cots and could not receive care such as many of them needed but it was the best that could be given them. The patients in the tents shown in the accompanying picture, were the ones selected to occupy the new ward. It was amusing to see the awed expressions they had as they filed into the ward and were assigned to their beds.

The new mattresses and pillows clothed in new linen in the white enameled bed frames, looked so imposing they were afraid to get into the immaculate beds. Before coming into the wards every patient was given a bath and a new suit of pajamas so they also were clean and fresh. The doctor in charge of the patients said in a bantering tone of voice, "I meant to have the patients all sandpapered before coming in but a bath was the best I could do."

White Patients.
After being in the hot, stuffy tents, the cool, breezy ward seemed a paradise to these poor, forlorn colored people.

The street from this new building and out on the rear road, is another two-story building being erected, the foundation pillars of which are shown in the picture. This one is 399 feet long and will be used for white patients. This building will have four wards of fifty beds each. The end next to the main building will be occupied on the first floor by the central kitchen, where all the food will be prepared for both patients and hospital staff and employees. On the second floor above the kitchen will be the nurses' and doctors' dining room.

Nurses' Buildings.
Across from this immense building and at the end of the other new ward building are located the two houses now used as the nurses' quarters. The erection of this building has made all of the nurses' hearts sad, for it obstructs our view of the sea—a never ending source of delight and interest to us all. In the past there was always a strife over who would first sight the mail steamer coming around the point on mail days. It was the one excitement of the week. In future we shall have to look at papyrus clad patients parading the verandas of the new building, a most prosaic exchange for a poetic and exquisite view.

Steam Laundry.
What was once the hospital garden is now another center of activities. A large steam laundry is being erected which will be capable of supplying all the clean linen needed for a five-hundred bed hospital. Here again did the poetic have to be sacrificed for the prosaic. That garden was a constant source of interest to us for it was never without roses, and jasmine, and seldom without some variety of ripe fruit. To wander in it when the dew was still on the flowers in the early morning and pick an exquisite rose or an orchard blossom to wear made the unpleasant odors and sights of the wards more bearable for the day. That, too, is taken away from us.

Smaller Buildings.
On other parts of the hospital grounds are duplicated in Crystal, in Colon and in nearly every village along the line of the railroad. The work that has been done during the past six months by way of preparation for the real work on the canal is something enormous, the newspaper reports to the contrary notwithstanding. To those who are here in the midst of the work and know all that is being done, they only marvel that so much could be accomplished in so short a time and they realize and appreciate the excellent brains and fine executive ability of those who are directing and bringing about all these excellent results. Mistakes are made of course, because men are human and fallible, but the work as a whole is going on grandly and most successfully.

That Contain Mercury.
Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Dealers in Druggists. Price, 50c per bottle. Take Hall's Catarrh Cure for constipation.

EVEN THE TIMID BLUE-BIRD HAS ARRIVED IN THE CITY; THREE SEEN

Robins' Stories Made Back Numbers—Songsters Visited in Forest Park Today.

The advent of the robins more than a week ago caused more than excitement among those who watch for the coming of spring each year. The arrival of the bluebirds, which usually are not pioneers in coming north, should result in still more commotion. Three of these songsters were seen today, flitting about the trees in Forest Park and singing their happiest lays.

STATE NOTES

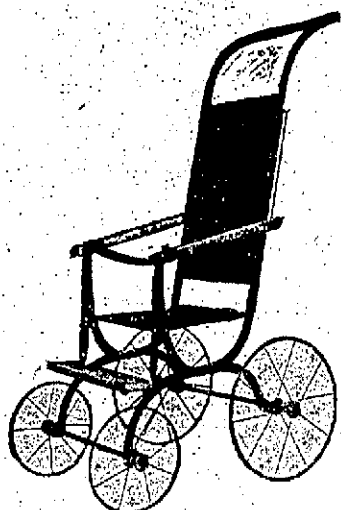

Journeymen plumbers of Racine have served notice that beginning on April 1 they will demand $4 per day instead of $2.50, eight hours to constitute a day's work.
Louis Benedict, molder at the Belle City Malleable Iron company, Racine, had his right foot burned almost to a crisp, molten iron from a ladle accidentally being poured into his shoe.
The Fond du Lac county board has awarded the contract for remodeling the county jail to the Champion Iron works of Kenton, O., for $13,150. All of the old stone cells will be torn out, and there will be two tiers of modern steel cells.
The Fond du Lac grand jury is apparently still working on the investigation of the affairs at the county insane asylum. An expert Milwaukee accountant has gone over all of the books and papers of that institution, and on Friday he was in the grand jury room for several hours.
